

N. C. WILKINSON WILL FILE PLEA IN DEATH CASE

Salem Man to Appear Before Boardman Justice This Afternoon

WILL FACE CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Mahoning Officials File Count After Auto Fatality

Norwood C. Wilkinson, Salem automobile salesman, was scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace M. E. Martin in Boardman this afternoon for preliminary arraignment on a charge of manslaughter, filed against him today by Sheriff W. J. Engelhart of Mahoning county.

The manslaughter count follows the death here Tuesday night of LeRoy Wilcox, 26, of near Garfield, who was struck by an automobile driven by the former at 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Arrange for Bond

The charge was preferred following a conference last night between Sheriff Engelhart, Coroner M. E. Hayes and Assistant Prosecutor H. C. Church, who made arrangements to admit Wilkinson to bond at his preliminary hearing today.

Wilkinson is being represented by Attorney David Hays of Youngstown. Wilkinson, arrested at midnight Monday by Deputies Paddy Hays and George Lisko of Youngstown and Patrolman George Earley of Salem, is in the county jail at Youngstown. Prosecuting Attorney J. H. Lehighner announced, but may be released on bond at the hearing before Squire Martin. The amount of the bond has not been set.

The accident occurred as Wilkinson was driving to his home on the Salem-Garfield rd. He is reported by police to have struck Wilcox as the latter was walking along the highway, the automobile then careening from the road into a field where it was wrecked.

Wilcox Found in Ditch
Wilkinson, injured in the crash, walked to his home in a dazed condition. Wilcox was found in an unconscious condition in a ditch beside the road four hours later by E. H. Althouse of Salem. He died at the Central Clinic at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday from a fractured skull and concussion of the brain.

Funeral service for Wilcox will be held at the O. G. Stark funeral home, East State st., at 2 p. m. Friday in charge of Rev. A. C. Westphal, pastor of the First Baptist church. Burial will be in Memorial park cemetery, Alliance.

Estranged Wife of Actor Crash Victim

(By Associated Press)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Daisy Canfield Moreno, oil fortune heiress and estranged wife of Antonio Moreno, film actor, was killed early today when an automobile plunged off a 300-foot embankment in the Hollywood foothills.

The wife of the actor was riding in an automobile with her husband, who was driving, when the car slipped back to the highway and skidded passing motorists. He was injured slightly.

300 AT EAGLES' ENTERTAINMENT

Program Marks 30th Anniversary of Founding of Lodge

Approximately 300 persons lodge members and guests, including delegations from areas throughout the district, attended an entertainment held to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of Quaker City Aerie No. 316, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the home, East State st., Wednesday night.

Ralph J. Martin, president of the lodge, was the principal speaker. He discussed accomplishments of Eagles' lodges in Ohio, and explained the organizations' activities in regard to the workmen's compensation act, mothers' pensions and the old-age pension.

Dancing by Billie Hannay, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Esther Rummel Odoran was a feature of the entertainment program which was followed by playing of cards and dancing. Handicrafts' orchestra provided the music.

A buffet lunch was served while candy treats were distributed to children.

The program was in charge of a committee composed of President Martin, John L. Simonds and Ed. Drotleff.

Michigan's Banks Resume Business

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, Feb. 23.—Michigan enters the second phase of its extraordinary banking holiday today with the reopening of all banks—some of them for the first time since Gov. William A. Comstock proclaimed the holiday, on Feb. 21.

With a few exceptions, banks throughout the lower peninsula followed the lead of Detroit's banks and announced that 5 per cent of all accounts would be made available to depositors.

Although there was no formal announcement, it was believed plans were underway to permit increased withdrawals within a few days, possibly next week.

Bankers generally predicted that resumption of normal business would follow soon upon the enactment of legislation protecting state and national banks. Such legislation now pending in Lansing would empower the state banking commissioner to declare an emergency to exist either at his own discretion or upon request of bank officials, the limit withdrawals upon the basis of the liquidity of assets.

4 G. A. R. Veterans At Lisbon Dinner

LISBON, Feb. 23.—Only four G. A. R. veterans, members of Starr post here, attended a dinner given in their honor Wednesday by the Ladies' Relief corps. They were William K. George of Madison township, Jacob Toot, E. B. Rawson and James Walter, all of Lisbon.

Four of the eight surviving members of Starr post were unable to attend the event because of illness, these being George Webber, John H. and Freeman Morrison and Andrew Drummond.

Mrs. Helen Blackburn entertained the veterans with several vocal solos.

HOLD RECITAL HERE TONIGHT

Joe Marsilia To Appear In Program At High School

Joe Marsilia, Salem lyric tenor, will be featured in a recital sponsored by the freshmen class of Salem High at the school auditorium tonight.

An attractive program of songs by Marsilia and quartet selections by the Ladistra singers has been arranged for the occasion. The recital is scheduled at 8:15.

Betty-Jane Little will accompany the Ladistra singers while L. E. Allen of Alliance will be Marsilia's accompanist.

Growers Planning 2-County Session

The annual meeting of the Columbiana and Mahoning county vegetable growers will be held in the high school building at Columbiana on Wednesday, March 1, beginning at 10 a. m. The program will include a discussion of various problems confronting growers. The meeting has been arranged by County Agents Floyd Lower of Columbiana and J. C. Hedge of Mahoning. Following is the program:

10 a. m.—New Developments in Commercial Growing—A. W. Marion, Old Troubles and a New Light (Illustrated)—A. L. Pierstorff.

1 p. m.—Present Day Economics and Insect Control—A. L. Pierstorff. Economic Use of Fertilizer—A. W. Marion. Questions and Answers—A. W. Marion and A. L. Pierstorff.

Egg marketing and rearing of chicks will be discussed at an all-day meeting of poultrymen of Columbiana county to be held in Salem on Wednesday, March 8.

The report of a committee which is studying egg marketing in the county will be made at this meeting. The meeting has been arranged by the committee in cooperation with County Agent Floyd Lower.

Program Is Given By Mt. Nebo Grange
Frank Simmons and family had charge of the program at a meeting of Mt. Nebo grange Wednesday evening at the hall, Salem-Lisbon rd. "My Favorite Pie" was the roll call response. The program was composed of these numbers: Song, "America," two songs by a trio comprised of S. A. Worman, Guy Frantz and Herman V. Zimmerman; select readings, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons; song, Mr. Simmons, played, "Pat's Daily Dose," Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wallace and two children, Gail and Ida Mays; "Life of Washington," Vida Simmons; stunt in charge of Miss Simmons.

The next meeting will be on March 8.

PAROLE BOARD HIT IN REPORT

Cleveland Group Cites Developments in Mack Bush Case

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 23.—A charge—quickly denied—that Rev. K. E. Wall, Ohio penitentiary chaplain, "apparently buried in the chaplain's archives" letters unfavorable to a parole for Francis E. (Mack) Bush was made public today in a 12,000-word report on the case by the investigating committee of the Cleveland Association of Criminal Justice.

At the same time, the committee asserted the work of the state board of parole "was either ineffectively slanted or its members unbelievably credulous." The report was taken an interest.

Mr. Wall, from his home in Columbus, asserted it always had been his rule to turn over to the parole board "all correspondence—good or bad—in any case in which I have taken an interest."

He added that he did not remember holding out any letters in the case of Bush, who was paroled while serving a sentence for a Lakewood bank robbery, and now is serving a life sentence for the murder of Herbert E. Quinlan in a jewelry holdup here last Oct. 8.

The committee report concerns itself primarily with the Bush case (Continued on Page 5)

Legion Auxiliary To Give 2 Parties

The American Legion auxiliary will give two public card parties—at 2 and 8 p. m. Friday at the home, East State st.

The auxiliary is in need of funds to buy new material to make garments for needy families, and the proceeds from the parties will be used for this work.

Unless more money is secured, the auxiliary will be unable to carry on its relief work, according to officers of the unit.

Persons wishing to reserve tables may call Mrs. Charles Haldi, Franklin st.

2-DAY BARGAIN EVENT TO OPEN HERE TOMORROW

Salem Merchants Ready For Dollar Days Observance

VALUES ENHANCED BY LOWER PRICES

All Lines to Be Represented in Merchandising Event

Dollar Days, that two-day sales event which places before buyers of the Salem shopping district an astounding array of unusual bargains, enabling economical shoppers to make their dollar travel farther than it ever has before, begin here Friday.

Varied Lines Represented
More than a score of the city's leading merchants are participating in the event, sponsored by the Salem Business Bureau twice a year. Stores today are making all possible preparations to place before prospective purchasers, both local and out of town, a multiplicity of bargains that will serve to emphasize the city's place as the district's shopping center.

Opening tomorrow, Dollar Days will continue Saturday, all stores being open until 9 p. m. the latter day when the activities of shoppers, attracted by the fine display of merchandise and the unprecedented lowness of prices, is expected to reach its peak.

Clothing stores, pharmacies, groceries, dairy stores, shoe stores, hardware dealers, dry goods establishments, and other mercantile organizations are participating in the campaign.

Prices Are Lower
Willing to accept decreased profits because of the times, merchants have slashed prices right and left, and, together with their extraordinary price-cutting are responsible for a general stimulus in local business activity, adding considerably to their sales staff to provide best service possible for buyers.

Potato Growers Discuss Markets

"How to stabilize the Potato Market" was discussed by E. B. Tussing, specialist, Ohio State university, Columbus, at the annual meeting of the Columbiana and Mahoning counties potato growers Wednesday at the Methodist Episcopal church.

Approximately 175 growers were at the meeting.

Floyd Lower, Lisbon, and J. C. Hedge, Canfield, county agents, who arranged the meeting, were authorized to name a committee to nominate a marketing committee, comprised of men from the two counties. This committee will study marketing methods in this district and probably make recommendations about improving qualities and grades.

"My Experiences in Potato Growing" was the theme of a talk by Dell Crabbs, Braceville, Trumbull county, member of the 400 bushel club.

C. F. Ellison, Salem, talked on "Market Reaction in Cleaning and Growing" and "Diseases of Potatoes" was the subject of a talk by A. L. Pierstorff, Ohio State university.

The luncheon was served by Circle 2 of the Methodist church.

Jersey Breeders To Meet In Salem

Jersey breeders of Columbiana county will meet in the Memorial building at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, Feb. 28. The program will include a discussion on the marketing of Jersey milk by both producers and distributors.

H. A. Dennison of the American Jersey Cattle club will speak on the subject, "What Jersey Breeders Can Do to Make More Profit." Following this a general discussion and business meeting will be held. The program has been arranged by a committee of Jersey breeders.

Members of Columbiana County Dairy Improvement association and other dairymen including the Jersey breeders will meet at the same place at 2 p. m. C. L. Blackman, dairy specialist of Ohio State university, will speak on the subject "Reducing Cost of Production." This will be followed by a business session.

May Get Places In Roosevelt Cabinet

Yesterday's reports from Washington indicate that President-elect Roosevelt has completed the selection of his cabinet and the list contains the names of Daniel C. Roper (left) of South Carolina, for secretary of commerce, and Harold Ickes (right) of Illinois, for secretary of the interior. Roper is a former commissioner of internal revenue under President Wilson. Ickes has been one of the middle west's progressive Republican leaders since the Bull Moose campaign for President Roosevelt in 1912.

Singer Attempts Suicide Beneath Trolley's Wheels

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—A woman who gave the name of Augusta Lenska was taken to the Billings Memorial hospital last night, suffering from body bruises received when struck by a street car.

The police said they had learned from tenants in a rooming house, where the woman lived, that she had been an opera singer. Trunks bearing labels of foreign hotels and steamship lines were found in her room.

F. D. Riley, motorman of the street car, told police the woman had jumped in front of his car. She was questioned by Police Sergeant Fred Webster, who, when he asked her for her reason for the act, quoted her as saying, "O, troubles; despair."

Records of the Chicago Civic Opera association show that one of the principal singers of the company during the season of 1924-25 sang under the name of Augusta Lenska, with Edith Mastin, Mary Garden, Rosa Raisa and other stars. She was a contralto. During the World war Miss Lenska was prima donna with the Teatro De La Monnaie at Brussels and with the Royal opera.

Mrs. E. H. Larkin, operator of the rooming house, told investigators that the woman had informed her that she was formerly with the Chicago Civic Opera company.

A fire department crew rescued the woman from beneath the car by lifting it up with jacks.

LABOR MEASURE BEFORE HOUSE

Ratification Is Near On Amendment to Protect Young Workers

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—The child labor amendment to the federal constitution, laid aside several years ago after submission to the states, may have Ohio's ratification within a few days.

Already adopted by the house, a resolution proposing ratification of the amendment was recommended for approval by the senate labor committee last night.

Submitted to the state legislature in 1925, the ratification proposal was voted down by a large majority in the house. It lay dormant until revived this year.

Hear Tax Arguments
A joint meeting of the senate and house taxation committees heard a number of speakers advocate adoption of a general sales tax to relieve the burden on real estate and to establish a more equitable system of taxation.

Bills proposing various levies are pending before the assembly but no specific set of rates was advocated. The pending bills would raise revenues from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually, the speakers contended.

BOETTCHER, SR., VOWS VENGEANCE

Will Spend Fortune To Get Kidnapers, If Son Is Harmed

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., Feb. 23.—Claude K. Boettcher today vowed vengeance upon the kidnapers of his son, Charles Boettcher, 2nd, if the 31-year-old wealthy broker is harmed while in their custody.

"I will spend five times the $50,000 ransom or 10 times that sum to track them down if they harm one hair of my son's head," the multimillionaire declared, a short time after it was learned a revolver had been ordered for him by his son's firm, Boettcher, Newton and Co.

The elder Boettcher, who Tuesday night made a futile effort to contact the kidnapers on a lonely road, was prevailed upon by police to take steps to protect himself from kidnapping or other harm.

His voice charged with emotion, the father delivered his ultimatum to the kidnapers of his son at a conference with newspaper men.

"I have no reason to believe my son is not alive," he said. "The abductors know I am ready and willing to meet their demands. Surely they are business men enough to take care of my son so they can fulfill their part of the bargain. They must also realize I will spend my fortune and the rest of my life in tracking them down and bringing them to justice if they harm him."

Today was the eleventh day of young Boettcher's captivity. Police said they were stalemated in their investigation because of the father's announced policy of non-cooperation with them.

Boettcher blamed his failure to contact the abductors on his being followed by detectives. He awaits further moves by his son's captors.

Clues Are Slight In "Bomb" Threat
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—A note accompanying an explosive addressed to Franklin D. Roosevelt here was considered by federal agents today to be their chief clue in tracing the would-be assassin.

Found with a crudely made but potentially dangerous apparatus, the note was sent to New York postal inspectors to aid them in ascertaining who mailed the package to the president-elect from Watertown, N. Y.

While the note was not made public, postoffice officials said it threatened Mr. Roosevelt only by implication. It was written on a correspondence card of mediocre quality and placed in an unaddressed envelope.

The package containing a shotgun shell, with wiring shaped as a "J" over the cap, was discovered at the city postoffice Tuesday when it tumbled from a mail sack and burst open.

Postoffice and justice department investigators are believed to be working on the case at Watertown.

Discover Ocean Depth of 9 Miles

(By Associated Press)
SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, Feb. 23.—An ocean depth of nearly nine miles, discovered 75 miles north of this island, was claimed today to be the lowest point in the bed of the Atlantic.

The discovery was reported by Dr. Paul Bartsch, leader of an oceanographic expedition.

He claimed a depth of 44,000 feet was found near Nares deep, where a record of 27,972 feet was discovered 60 years ago by Commander George Strong Nares, British explorer.

SENATE BALLOT IS FAVORABLE ON REFERENDUM

Ignores Advice of Governor White and Adopts Smolka Plan

HOUSE VOTES ON MEASURE TUESDAY

Senate, Meanwhile, Tries To Work Out Convention Plans

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 23.—Whether Ohio voters will have an opportunity next November, to decide if prohibition shall remain in the state constitution now is up to the house of representatives.

The senate, ignoring the advice of Gov. White, yesterday adopted the Smolka resolution providing for a referendum on repeal of state constitutional prohibition, and sent it to the house. That body has arranged to vote on it next Tuesday.

Undecided On System
Meanwhile, the senate proceeded today to work out a system for handling the federal prohibition repeal either through a convention composed of delegates at-large, part from congressional districts and part at-large, or from state senatorial districts. The senate judiciary committee which is handling the question, is split on which system to adopt.

Gov. White had indicated opposition to the plan for electing the delegates at large, expressing preference for the district method. Later he agreed to have 44 delegates elected from congressional districts and eight at large. This plan was acceptable to Senator Harold G. Moser (D) of Cuyahoga, sponsor of the "model" bill providing for the at-large system.

The house was prepared today to vote on the emergency relief bill providing for diversion of gasoline tax revenues by cities and counties for relief purposes. This, the last of the administration emergency relief bills to extend the present relief program for two more years, was passed on the senate for several weeks before that body finally accepted it grudgingly.

Loan Bill Ready
The emergency building and loan association liquidating bill which also has met with considerable opposition, was ready for final action. The conference committee to which it was sent to adjust differences has recommended acceptance of the senate amendments and this probably will be done by the house. The bill then will be ready for the governor's signature.

Representative John F. McCrystal (D) of Erie county, sponsor of a prohibition repeal resolution identical with the Smolka resolution, predicted today that the Smolka measure will be passed by the house. The senate vote of 22 to 9 in favor of the repeal resolution, McCrystal said, will bring support to the measure.

As adopted by the senate, the repeal amendment would become effective immediately if approved by the voters next November. The governor's proposal to make the repeal effective only after the federal repealer has been ratified by three-fourths of the states was defeated by a vote of 19 to 12. He is without power to veto resolutions.

The senate by a vote of 20 to 11, defeated an amendment by Senator John A. Lloyd (R) of Scioto county, that would have delayed the referendum on the amendment until after the repeal of federal prohibition had become a reality.

G. H. Dern Accepts As War Secretary

(By Associated Press)
SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 23.—Former Gov. George H. Dern, of Utah, has been offered the post of secretary of war in the Roosevelt cabinet, and has accepted, it was announced at his residence here today.

Rewarded

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 23.—Well, for breakfast this morning we got three new cabinet officers.

Cordell Hull, a mighty fine, able man. Ever since I been going to political conventions, no matter who the rest of the world nominated, I voted for Jefferson. Jackson, Wilson, Smith or Roosevelt, Tennessee went for Cordell Hull. Their loyalty has been rewarded.

Secretary of state is quite a chore in these times. This fellow Woodin that has inherited the deficit, I don't know him, but I, along with everybody else, rush to offer him condolence. Swanson for the navy post is ideal. He did inherit a navy, if congress don't kill it with no appropriations.

Yours,

WILLING TO SERVE

Cordell Hull, senator from Tennessee, and William H. Woodin, eastern industrialist, are the first members of the Roosevelt cabinet to emerge from the uncertainty of speculation. They will be secretary of state and secretary of treasury, respectively.

Without being special favorites in public life, each has a reputation and a following sufficient to draw the confidence of the country as they face their new positions. Woodin, for instance, has been outstandingly successful in business. He is not a Carter Glass, but he enjoys the same fundamental advantage among critics; he is known to stand with his feet on the ground.

Senator Hull's qualifications have been discussed fully, owing to the certainty that he was to be given the secretaryship of state. It is sufficient to repeat that he is equipped by temperament and training for the key position in the cabinet. He lacks the hold on popular fancy that an Owen D. Young or an Alfred E. Smith can boast of, but there is no question of his fundamental ability.

Perhaps the newly appointed cabinet officers' viewpoint is worth considering. It probably is different from that of most of his countrymen, who are likely to think of him, primarily, as a man selected by the incoming president to fill a post of honor. To the appointee there must be another side.

For the opportunity to stand in a political pillory during a time when the people are in a touchy mood he has given up a position achieved after years of striving. He has accepted a job paying only a nominal salary on the chance that circumstances will be right to repay him with wages of acknowledged achievement. Because of a certain loyalty to a political party and to its leader, he has promised to try to serve his country in a manner that will be found acceptable by his critical countrymen.

Without the glory of being a favorite and winning an election at the polls, the cabinet officers undertake some of the most difficult jobs in the world for the sake of helping the government by a devotion of their talents. Perhaps their countrymen owe them vastly more respect than ordinarily is implied by the tests of cold analysis to which they are subjected when their names are announced. Senator Hull and Mr. Woodin, having been named first, will get the most attention. May there be in it, for them, at least a suggestion of the gratitude they deserve for their willingness to serve.

A RECORD FOR FUN

Americans, who like to do things for a specific purpose, have a hard time understanding Sir Malcolm Campbell. In the thrill of sharing his satisfaction with the new speed record he set Wednesday afternoon they still stop to wonder what it is that makes a man want to travel 300 miles an hour in an automobile.

Sir Malcolm hasn't made 300 miles an hour yet, to be sure. The best he could do Wednesday was to break his previous record by 18 miles, with a new mark of 272.103 miles an hour. He may give himself another chance before he returns to England. It depends on whether or not he believes the complicated automobile which has become a symbol of speed can go faster than he has driven it.

Many weeks ago, when his visit to the United States for his automobile speed record had been announced only a few days, he explained his motive as partaking strongly of a certain pride in achievement. Lacking a better explanation, it seems best to take the phrase for what it is worth. Many men have done seemingly impossible things for the pure joy of doing what most other men and perhaps no other man dares to do or is able to do.

Sir Malcolm and his automobile represent a product of painstaking study and preparation that cannot be duplicated at anything less than a prohibitive figure and years of earnest effort. Someone might produce a car equal to or better than Sir Malcolm's, but only nature and preparation can produce another man capable of driving it. There are too many factors to be brought under control to permit easy duplication of the combination.

Sir Malcolm's speed tests over the long, smooth surface of Daytona beach have become an annual interlude of machine age adventure. Tales of great deeds by the heroes of old dwindle to drabness as revealed in contrast to a motor developing 2,500 horsepower—a motor that will drive tons of steel and the fragile body of one man over the ground almost as fast as sound travels.

The Stars Say:

For Friday, Feb. 24

A day of intriguing and probably mysterious or curious events and conditions is presaged from the prevailing lunar and mutual figures. An element of the sudden, subtle and quite unforeseen enters into all affairs business as well as private. It might be well to be on guard against secret enemies, peculiar relations with rings, combines or secret societies, as fraud or sinister stances, shrewdly managed, may bring employment benefits.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year which may not be deemed as monotonous, as there are many signs of intrigue, conspiracy, subtle and curious experiences and situations. Child born on this day may be clever, shrewd, given to the curious and unconventional, yet may figure in the public eye.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—About the bleakest spot to me in Manhattan—especially in winter—is that southern tip of the island, known as Battery Park. Life, like the land there, suddenly runs out. And there remain in the desolation only a scatter of beached, unfortunate, touching bottom on park benches.

Oddly enough, Chris Morley once found in its center a stone carved with a somewhat prophetic: "Coast and Geodetic Survey, Basic Bench Mark." The park snags more abject down-and-outers than the Bowery. This may be because, at the moment, seamen, who drift there, are in desperate straits.

One must emerge through the rich roar of Wall Street to reach the park, and this gives the abandonment a sharp contrast. Today, three outcasts were stuffing old newspapers beneath their clothing. An observer said: "They're getting ready for night. That keeps them warm."

Battery Park is the immigrant's first stop after disembarking. He stands there with his pitiful belongings and, in sheeplike dumbness, awaits guides who will start him on his journey to wheat or coal fields, or wherever he may be going. The surroundings must chill the heart of a newcomer.

A mimeograph mentioning of the Algonquin's round table activities includes only one feminine name in an illustrious roster—that is of Margolo Gilmore. Incidentally, Frank Case recently launched a supper club in one of his dining rooms, the first concession of the rim hostility to Broadway's hoop-de-doo.

It was thought Elin Berlin's story, "But Not For Love!" in the magazines would concern her romance with Irving Berlin. Instead, it was a many-faceted little gem of fiction. Mrs. Berlin had written a tale or so for The New Yorker when marriage interrupted her literary endeavors. But, like many others of great wealth, she can use an extra penny these days. And the reading world profits.

Still another society lady to flower among the magazines recently is Clare Boothe Luce, who has become managing editor of Vanity Fair. She, like Elin Berlin, is a fragile blond with large and shining eyes and has already made a distinct mark in the new job.

Dresden china editresses are a far cry from the hell-roarers of my day. Yet out of their rough-neck bluster I recall learning but one thing. I had written of a hotel rival as a guest. "What do you mean guest?" a city editor shrieked. "He pays doesn't he? Don't ever let me catch you using guest for patron." And the umpty-ump never did.

On the staff of this paper at the same time were Roy Howard, Ray Long, William Philip Simms, H. T. Webster, R. M. Brinkerhoff, Eugene Walter and Ray Rohn. There was a press telegrapher, Lloyd Scholl, now high in the councils of the Western Union, who was Father Confessor to a wayward group. On bleak and heady blue Mondays we crept to his chinking coop for a few comforting words—and 50 cents or so for lunch money. He never failed us, but Saturdays, during those mysterious, sudden quiet days that come to the rattletang of editorial rooms, he would tweak us.

For instance, in the calm, Scholl's voice would boom over a dead horse to some imaginary inquirer: "I can't believe naming the debtor out loud!" won't pay what he owes. He pays me promptly." So great was our fear of exposure, we cracked on the line.

Thingumabobs: Isaac Marcossion reads books while lacing his shoes. Ted Cook, when excited, goes through the motion of washing his hands. Morris Gest and Jascha Heifetz were born on the same block in Vilna, Russia. William DeMille has quit the movies, temporarily to write. A press dispatch called the Richard Washburn Child's baby girl, Dorothy, before it had been named. So the name sticks. Frank Buck, preparing against infections in another jungle invasion, had both uppers and lowers extracted. Losing his buck teeth, as it were. "Red Meat" is to be a movie of the life of J. Ogden Armour. Constance Bennett takes her own sheets and blankets with her when traveling.

A flamboyant taste for rowdy pajamas resulted in another riotous selection today. But when the clerk handed them over with a wink I felt like a burn-out roue all the way home.

A Deficiency Disease and Its Cure

A great deal has been written concerning the various forms of treatment for pellagra, but very little in regard to its prevention. Yet you will agree with me of course, that the prevention of disease is far more important than its cure. Keeping well is better than getting well.

Pellagra is a disease involving the skin, stomach, intestines and nervous system. It can be traced to the prolonged diet lacking in certain substances. The disease usually makes its appearance during the summer months, but undoubtedly it can be traced to the diet of the preceding winter.

A Deficiency Disease

For many years this disease beset the medical profession. Since it first involves the skin, it was looked upon as a disease of the skin and spoken of as a form of "dermatitis".

At one time pellagra was believed to be an infectious disease. When we learned about vitamins and came to have a better understanding of nutrition, it was determined that pellagra is a "vitamin deficiency disease." By this I mean that pellagra, like scurvy, rickets and other similar diseases, follows the eating of food lacking in certain essential ingredients.

The skin symptoms of this disease are quite marked. There is first a reddish discoloration of the skin. This is followed by scaling and peeling of the afflicted area. The face, neck and hands are most commonly involved. The skin itches, burns, is tender and usually swells. Sufferers from pellagra have marked nervous symptoms. These may lead to melancholia, with hallucinations, stupor and convulsions. As would be expected, the victim of this disease complains of swollen and bleeding gums, increased salivation and a persistent diarrhea.

Due to Wrong Kind of Food

Contrary to the common belief, pellagra is not exclusively a poor man's disease. In most instances, it is true, lack of food can be traced to a lack of funds. But many cases are due to the wrong kind of food and not to the lack of food.

Vitamin G is the one that prevents pellagra. I am glad to say that it is found in a variety of foods accessible to all. For example, it is found in large quantities in fresh bean meats, liver, milk, canned salmon, and wheat germ. In smaller quantities it is found in eggs, dried beans and peas, canned spinach and canned string beans. Vitamin G is found in very small quantities in corn products wheat and rye flour, oatmeal, salt pork, lard, carrots and rice.

From what I have said you will not question that the prevention of pellagra is easier than its cure. The disease is often difficult to relieve and frequently it undermines the general health of the afflicted person.

Answers to Health Queries

S. G. T. Q.—What would cause a pain on the right side a little below the hip? Would dancing or swimming cause further trouble or aggravation?

A.—It would be rather difficult to say without making examination. Do not overdo or overexert until the cause of the trouble has been located. Make sure there is no tendency to constipation.

Social Affairs

22nd ANNIVERSARY

The Martha Washington club held a lovely party Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. L. Fuls, North Union ave., to celebrate the 22nd anniversary of its organization.

Coverdill dinner was served in the basement of the home. The table was prettily decorated in pink and green tapers. In the center was a decorated birthday cake, on the top of which was written the club's name. It's age, "22" was made in small candles. This cake was a gift of Mrs. Andy Beall.

There were 23 in the company, members and their families. Five hundred was the favored pastime. Miss Lucille Baker and Mrs. Leonard Crossley won first and second honors, respectively, for the women, while the men's prizes were claimed by Charles Baker and William Tler.

The club has five charter members and four of them, Mrs. William Potts, Mrs. Crossley, Mrs. Charles Baker and Mrs. Fuls, were at the celebration. Mrs. Julia Finley, the other charter member, is in Florida for the winter.

A meeting of the club on March 2 will be at the home of Mrs. Stewart Hubler, North Howard ave.

CIRCLE 2

Circle 2 of the Methodist Episcopal church met Wednesday afternoon at the church with 14 members in attendance. There were two visitors. Mrs. Adda Gilbert had the devotions and Mrs. E. E. Apple was in charge of the program.

Patriotic music was contributed by Miss Margaret C. Kirkbride and Miss Margaret M. Kirkbride. Select readings were given by several of the members. Lunch was served.

This circle will serve the lunch for a meeting of poultrymen of Columbiana county on March 8 at the church. Envelopes were distributed for the Easter offering.

FARR CLASS

The national colors were used effectively in the table decorations when the Farr class of the Christian church had a supper Tuesday evening at the church for the members and their families. Approximately 60 members and their families participated in the enjoyable event. The favors were miniature hatchets.

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Evans and sons, and Mrs. Anna Farmer were guests of the class.

Games and contests afforded pleasure. The next meeting will be on March 21.

WOMEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Members of the Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a luncheon Wednesday at the church.

Mrs. C. A. Haviland was in charge of the devotions. Following a business session the women were interested in sewing.

At the March meeting the members will have a luncheon and officers will be elected.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS PARTY

A jolly time occupied the hours when members of the Wana Heanella Campfire girls had a party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Priscilla Mullins, South Lincoln ave. The girls found pleasure in games, contests and music. Refreshments were served.

The girls will meet next Monday and probably will take a hike if the weather is favorable.

MOOSE WOMEN

Following a meeting of Salem chapter No. 68, Women of the Mooseheart legion, Wednesday evening the members enjoyed a chili supper. Games provided entertainment.

In one week the women will entertain their husbands at a coverdill supper at the hall, followed by an entertainment.

ENGLISH LADIES' AID

The English Ladies' Aid society of the Emmanuel Lutheran church met last evening at the home of Mrs. M. B. Krauss, Arch st.

After the business session a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Krauss served refreshments.

In one month the members will meet with Mrs. M. Kinn, Euclid st.

JUNIOR SOCIAL

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the First Friends church had a social meeting Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Miss Mary Walker, superintendent, was in charge, assisted by Miss Lois Bailey. Games were played and lunch was served.

HONORS MRS. PREIS

In honor of Mrs. L. M. Preis of Norwalk, who is visiting here, Mrs. A. Hansell entertained at a Washington's birthday party Wednesday evening at her home, South Lincoln ave. Four tables of bridge were in play. Lunch was served.

SEWING CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon members of the School Girls' Sewing club were guests of Ruth Mercer at her home, Washington ave.

The time was devoted to sewing and games. A two-course lunch was served.

K. OF P. DANCE

Salem lodge No. 142, Knights of Pythias, will give a dance Friday evening at the hall, North Broadway. Lodge's orchestra will lay the dance program.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The West Side Community club will meet Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown, Damascus rd.

Mrs. James Lytle, Tenth st., who has been seriously ill at her home was today taken to the Central Clinic hospital. Her condition is reported to be slightly improved. Mr. Lytle, who has been ill also, is able to be up around the house.

Y. P. B. ELECTION

Officers for the ensuing six months were named at a meeting of the Young Peoples branch of the Women's Christian Temperance union Wednesday evening at the home of Sara Starbuck, North Ellisworth ave.

The officers are: President, Doris Maxine Miller; vice president, Sara Starbuck; secretary, Letha Venable; corresponding secretary, Verna Brown; treasurer, Josephine Cobb; librarian, Martha Jean Young.

Mary Walker, Margaret C. Kirkbride and Margaret M. Kirkbride were guests and there were eight members in attendance.

Lunch was served and the appointments were in keeping with Washington's birthday anniversary.

The next meeting will be on March 22.

ATTEND LUNCHEON

Mrs. L. P. Metzger, Mrs. Frank Harris, Mrs. R. E. Smucker, Mrs. John Smeltz and Mrs. Stanton Heck, members of the Garden club of Ohio, were in Youngstown Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Ohio club.

An officers' session in the morning was followed by a luncheon; both were at the City club. In the afternoon there was a lecture by Mrs. C. J. Carothers, Cleveland, recording secretary of the state unit, at the Stambaugh auditorium.

CRIBBAGE PARTY

Seven tables were engaged at cribbage at the public party held by Allen Reynolds post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wednesday evening at the hall, Vine ave.

Ralph Shepard carried off the first prize, while the second prize was awarded Ira May.

The post will hold another party in two weeks.

DAMES OF MALTA

Peace sisterhood, Dames of Malta, held a meeting Wednesday evening at the hall, North Broadway.

All members are asked to attend a meeting in two weeks when plans will be made for the annual inspection.

CIRCLE 4 MEETS

Seventeen members were present at a meeting of Circle 4 of the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. K. Olmhausen, Franklin st. After the business session there was a social period with games.

Today's Pattern

SPRING'S IN THE AIR
Pattern 2474

An irresistible temptation to the smart younger set is the jumper rock sketched today. The diagonal seaming of the jumper is chic and the youthful collar and puffy puffed sleeves are the popular details of a spring blouse. It would be lovely fashioned of sheer wool or novelty cotton with the guinea of dimity, lawn or other washable fabrics. Just as practical as can be for school wear.

Pattern 2474 may be ordered only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 10 requires 17½ yards 36 inch fabric and 1½ yards contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with pattern.

The spring fashion book contains 32 colorful pages of lovely Paris-inspired models for every spring need. It shows how to be chic at every hour of the day. Every style is practical, and easy to make. There are models for the larger figure, and pages of delightful junior and kiddie styles. Lovely spring lingerie and accessory patterns, too.

INSTALLS OFFICERS

Mrs. John Ormsby was mistress of ceremonies when the Protected Home circle installed its new officers at a meeting Tuesday evening at the hall, East State st.

The officers are: Past president, George Mountford; president, Miss Evelyn Price; vice president, Marion Baker; accountant, Harry Gardner; secretary, Mrs. Ormsby; treasurer, Miss Mary Burton; guardian, Mrs. No. A. Burton; guide, Mrs. Lida Powers; companion, John Ormsby; centinel, Miss Edith Price; watchman, Andrew Baker; trustee for three years, George Mountford; pianist, Mrs. Estla King.

Three applications for membership were received. Following the meeting there was a Washington's birthday party. Lunch was served.

CIRCLE 1

A program entertained at a meeting of Circle 1 of the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Shears, Jennings ave.

Mrs. J. L. Gray offered a reading. Two readings were contributed by Miss Geraldine Floding and Kenneth Shears and Wade McGhee played two clarinet duets.

Contests furnished entertainment at the social period. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Shears and her associate hostesses, Mrs. George Dresel, Mrs. O. C. Hoover and Mrs. Eva Matthews.

Twenty-three members attended and there were four guests.

GRANGE SOCIAL

Harry Schmidt entertained with guitar selections at a social meeting held by the young people of Salem grange Wednesday evening at the hall, Depot rd. Games helped make the evening enjoyable. Lunch was served. Some of the young people were from neighboring granges.

Mrs. Fannie Hughes, Salem, is ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Norman Bleam, south of Salem. Mrs. Hughes suffered a stroke of paralysis last Monday.

Mrs. William Silver and Mrs. Don Carey of Salem have been spending a few days in Columbus.

Robbers "Sorry"

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 23.—Two men who announced themselves "awfully sorry to have to do this" last night robbed Frank S. Wright of jewelry he valued at $1,000 and $82 in cash.

They took Mrs. Wright's purse, but threw it on the floor of the automobile salesroom, where the holdup occurred, with the contents untouched. Mrs. Wright prevented loss of a valuable ring by removing it from her finger as the men ushered her and her husband into a rear room.

TURKEY DINNER
Served from 11:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., Friday at Memorial Bldg. Benefit St. John A. M. E. church. Price 50c.

Chancellor—But Still a Nazi

Although he has taken a big step up in the world, Adolf Hitler, German Chancellor, apparently has not forgotten his Nazi comrades. The Chancellor is shown here as he greeted one of his young supporters during a recent rally of young Hitlerites in Berlin. Note that the Chancellor still wears the Nazi uniform with the swastika on the arm.

Upholds Sentence

WARREN, O., Feb. 23.—The district court of appeals yesterday upheld the death sentence imposed on Ralph (Red) Atterholt and Tony Torino of Sharon, Pa., for the killing of Marshal Scott Vashinder of Newton Falls and set the date for their electrocution as April 28. The men originally were sentenced to die last December.

Vashinder was killed last July 5, in a pistol battle. Owen Hunter of Warren, alleged accomplice of Torino and Atterholt in the attempted safe robbery that led to the killing, was killed 10 days later during another safe robbery attempt.

HONEY CREEK, Wis.—A wheel which broke loose from a car driven by C. H. Wilcox, Baraboo, Wis., rolled a half mile, hurdling two fences and a wood pile, before it stopped.

Rundown, Nervous

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery builds up the stomach and the blood so that the entire system feels the beneficial effect. Your appetite increases and you feel more peppy than you have felt in years. This is the experience of Mrs. Minnie Howard of 707 E. Second St., Dayton: "My health was very much broken down. I was nervous, weak, my entire body pained and ached, my fingers would become numb, I was bilious and felt dizzy. In the morning I felt as if I had had no rest at night. After I had taken one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I knew I was on the gain, and was soon enjoying the best of health." Sold by all druggists.

MAY TRY FOR 2 MORE RECORDS

Campbell Chalks Up 3 Marks In Dayton Beach Runs

(By Associated Press)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23. Three new world land speed records were to the credit today of Sir Malcolm Campbell, daring British race car driver, and he thought seriously of trying for two more.

With new flying start records for one kilometer one mile and five kilometers to top more than a quarter of a century of thrilling racing, the 48-year-old Britisher now wants to try for new standing start marks for one kilometer and one mile.

Whether he makes any more speed trials now, or decides to sail for England shortly, will depend, he said, upon how soon he recovers from an injured left arm, sprained while making repairs to his giant Bluebird racing car a week ago.

Throughout his two runs for the three new flying start records yesterday, Campbell steered the hurtling machine most of the way over a nine-mile stretch of bumpy beach, with only one hand. Afterward he described his experience as "the worst ride I ever had in my life."

In making his thunderous runs over the hard-packed sands yesterday, Campbell gathered in new records of 272.463 miles an hour over one kilometer; 272.108 over a mile and 257.295 over five kilometers to bring to five the number of world land speed records he possesses.

Campbell's previous records for the first three distances were 251.340 for one kilometer; 523.968 for one mile and 247.941 for five kilometers.

In establishing a new mark for the measured mile, the racer covered the distance for an average elapsed time on both runs of 13.39 seconds. His previous mile record was 14.17 seconds.

Mistrial Called In Dr. Steer Case

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 23. — The second trial of Dr. John O. Steer, Garfield heights dentist charged with second degree murder of his wife, Vera, was declared a mistrial today because six defense witnesses had been in the courtroom during the three days in which state evidence was presented.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Emerich B. Freed called attention to the violation of the criminal court rule banishing witnesses from court during a hearing in which they are to testify.

The witnesses, who were to testify as to Dr. Steer's character, were his mother, a sister, a sister-in-law, two aunts and Mrs. Bertha Marble, mother of the dead woman.

The mistrial was declared just as the defense was ready to open its testimony. A third trial was set for March 20.

Dr. Steer was accused of beating and shooting his wife to death in an argument over a card game. He maintained Mrs. Steer was slain by a burglar.

SCHOOL NEWS AND VIEWS

Interesting Items For Students, Teachers and Parents

By RALPH LONG, Jr.
James Campbell, newly elected president of the Freshman class, announced plans for the Joe Marshall recital tonight in the high school auditorium at an assembly of students.

Marsilia is a graduate of the local high school and because of students' keen interest in his career, many are expected to attend the event.

Ticket sales as reported by Miss Martha McCready, class adviser, indicate a large crowd.

"The Violin Maker of Cremona," a comedy in one act by Francois Coppée, was presented by the Salemasquers, the dramatic organization of the high school, for the Kiwanis club at its weekly meeting today in the Memorial building.

Miss Dorothy Wright introduced the members of the cast and Miss Mary Lanpher, club adviser, who directed the play.

The cast comprised Tadeo Parrari, the violin maker, Alroy Bloomberg; Filipo, his pupil, Ralph Long, Jr.; Sandro, another pupil, Albert Hanna; his daughter, Miss Dorothy Benzinger; page, Robert Wentz.

In order to prevent the spread of contagious diseases common at this season of the year, assemblies for the last two months have been few and far between. However, absence due to sickness, in the high school, is on the wane.

Indications are that assemblies will be resumed soon in the event the present progress is maintained. Principal Wilbur J. Springer announces.

Better Than Soda For Stomach Agony

Certainly repeated trials have shown you that soda can not be counted on to end your stomach agony. And magnesia is no better.

If you really want to get rid of stomach distress, forget these so-called alkaline digestants and just take a table-spoonful of artificial stomach juice or Mentha Pepsin, with your meals. The difference is magical. No gas. No pain. No bloating. No unpleasant symptoms of any kind.

You can absolutely count on Dare's Mentha Pepsin. Money back, says The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Broadway Lease Drug Store, any time it lets you down.

Aimee's Successor?

Known as the "Angel of Broadway" when she was a Salvation Army lass along New York's Main Stem, Rhea Crawford Splivalo (above), is being mentioned as the possible successor of Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton as pastor of Angelus Temple, Los Angeles. Mrs. Splivalo was married to Ray Splivalo, wealthy San Francisco clubman, in 1930. She is at present director of the California Department of Social Welfare.

Quake Is Recorded

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. — An earthquake, apparently centered 4,000 miles southeast of Washington, was recorded today on Georgetown university seismographs as having begun at 3:19:18 a. m., eastern standard time, with maximum at 3:45 a. m., and ending at 6:15 a. m. The shocks were moderately strong.

GANGSTER BOLDER
"WICKED CHINA"
ATTACK CHURCH

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1933 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CHICAGO—Good weather in Chicago, no signs of the late blizzard and far below zero weather. Crowds are already coming to see what is ready of next spring's exposition, now ahead of schedule and sure to be ready for the opening day. Visitors, paying 10 cents admission to the empty buildings, have contributed $899,000 to the enterprise.

This will be the first great exposition with automobiles bringing crowds, and Chicago should prepare abundant, convenient parking space.

IN VERY COLD weather, wolves forget caution, enter villages and attack recklessly. This depression represents cold weather for the gangster, and he becomes increasingly bold.

In Chicago's Loop, yesterday, with crowds looking on, four gangsters attacked a jewelry shop, two smashing the windows, removing trays of diamonds, while two others kept guard with sawed-off shotguns, wounding two employees as they came through the door. The gangsters drove away, firing as they went, to discourage pursuit, and escaped.

An end of prohibition, if it comes, will interfere with the earnings of thousands of criminals and make it necessary for police, public and government to do something about the crime wave. Nothing has been done yet.

THE league of nations has been warning Japan, and now, for a change, Japan warns the league not to censure Japan for her "necessary" activities in China, made necessary, Japan says, by China's aggressive wickedness.

If China does not fall in with Japan's views, a big drive by Japan is set for Saturday.

ATTACKS on the Catholic church, stimulated by Russia's official attitude toward all religion, spread first to Mexico, then to Spain.

Now, anti-Catholic attacks break out violently in Germany, under Hitler's rule. At Krefeld in Prussia, a meeting of the "Centrist," or Catholic party, was broken up by Hitler Nazis. In Muenster, also, Nazis broke up a "Centrist" meeting, forbidding Joseph Wirth, a former chancellor and a Catholic, to address his followers. Many Catholic priests were attacked and injured.

Mr. Hitler, Germany's new ruler, might advantageously study the memoirs of Von Bulow and his attitude toward German Catholics. And he should consider the ideal Mussolini, whom he seeks to copy. Far from oppressing religion, Mussolini grants temporal power to the pope, refused since Garibaldi's day, and pays to the Vatican hundreds of millions for rights hitherto ignored.

Mr. Hitler will have trouble enough trying to make thoughtful, well-educated Germans accept a temporary dictatorship without adding religious war to his problems.

SENATOR CARTER GLASS, who refuses to be secretary of the treasury, perhaps because he does not feel able to take a golden rabbit out of a stovepipe hat, says a few needed words to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and to the various states: "States are coming to Washington like mendicants, hats in hands. I have cast my last vote for these temporary expedients of so-called relief."

The golden rabbits are coming out of Uncle Sam's stovepipe hat in a rapid procession in these days. How long will it last? Uncle Sam can only hand out to pet corporations, half-bankrupt financial institutions, etc., as much as he can squeeze out of the people in taxes, and the squeezing becomes more difficult. The public debt now is above $20,000,000,000 20 times what it was before we rushed, with astinine recklessness, into Europe's war. How many more billions are to be piled up?

JAMES SIMPSON, having undertaken to pull the Insull properties out of the mire, if it can be done, John McKinley takes Mr. Simpson's place as president of Marshall Field Co. Every merchant will be interested in Mr. McKinley's announcement that Marshall Field operated at a profit during the last quarter of 1932, for the first time since 1930.

Babe's Surplus Brain Removed

This little man was born with so much brains that he had to give away half of them. He is Gerald Kelly, shown with his mother at their home in Woodlawn, N. J., after surgeons had successfully removed the second brain which protruded from the child's skull and had puzzled physicians since his birth. The mysterious growth, at first diagnosed as a tumor, was removed by a delicate operation performed by Dr. Nelson Ludington, of New Haven, Conn.

The low point came in the second quarter of 1932. The improved condition extends into 1933, and that, as every business man knows, is important good news.

Summit county, William H. Horner (D) of Huron county and Harold G. Mosser (D) of Cleveland county, and Representative Oakley Spaght (D) of Summit county, authors of the bills, urged creation of a general levy on sales.

Indications were that further hearings on the bill will be deferred until the assembly decides whether it will recess after clearing its calendar of general legislation and call a later session to consider taxation and relief.

A bill to create a state school book commission and to set up a standard textbook system was postponed indefinitely by the house schools committee. Rep. R. A. Pollock (D) of Stark county, the author, contended it would aid the poor parents of the state by providing free books for their children.

but concludes that "the board made no proper investigation of the cases before it, nor did it make a conscientious check of discrepancies in the statements in its possession to ascertain their truth or lack of truth."

Among the allegations the committee makes to support its contention that it "has found nothing whatever of any kind of parole" to Bush are these:

1—Chaplain Wall acknowledged a letter from former Common Pleas Judge Dan B. Cull in which the judge said "I am constrained to believe Bush's friends may be trying to impose on us." This is the letter the committee says was "apparently buried in the chaplain's archives."

2—A chorus girl friend of Bush was the prime mover in the attempt to win freedom for him. The Chicago man who took an active part in the case was interested by her and did not, the committee said, know Bush's family as he asserted.

3—A letter, sent to Chaplain Wall by Rev. M. S. Rice of Detroit, expressing surprise at Bush's long criminal record, was found in the Chicago man's file and no copy was in the parole board's record of the case. Dr. Rice wrote the investigating committee that an earlier offering to be of "constructive service" in Bush's behalf was written before he learned of Bush's record. This favorable letter the committee said it found on file with the board.

4—Chaplain Wall received two letters from Common Pleas Judge C. L. Newcomer of Bryan, O., who sat in Bush's second trial. In the first, sent to the parole board, Judge Newcomer said he did not recall the case referred to by Mr. Wall. The second, which the committee asserted was not turned over to the board, expressed strong opposition to Bush's parole.

5—A Cleveland school teacher, unidentified by the committee, was quoted as testifying before it that she lied in a letter she wrote Mr. Wall saying there was an enthusiastic response here for a parole for Bush. This letter, the committee said, was one of those on which the board based its action in granting the parole. Furthermore, the committee said the school teacher testified: "I had a letter from Mr. Wall this last week. He said some unofficial investigation was being talked about, and he asked me if I would be willing to say that, so far as I knew he was not the originator of the desire for the boy's parole."

Spongy Bleeding Gums
Are Often Sign of PYORRHEA

So go after such a condition at once with the treatment used and prescribed by 22,500 dentists. Here it is:

Massage your gums three times a day with KOJENE, the most powerful antiseptic safe for you to use. (Use equal parts of KOJENE and water.) Then soak a small roll of cotton in KOJENE and put it between the gums and cheeks to keep the healing antiseptic in constant contact with sick tissues.

Don't think you can save money by getting a cheaper antiseptic for this purpose—it might cost you your teeth! Try KOJENE first and risk nothing. If KOJENE doesn't clear up the trouble in a week, get your money back and see a dentist.

The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Broadway Lease Drug Store and all other first-class druggists sell KOJENE with a guarantee of swift, sure results or money back. Adv.

CAPITAL FEELS SCHOOL PINCH

Columbus Pays Its Teachers, But Forces, Terms, Rates Are Cut

(Editor's note: Here is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the financial plight of Ohio's public schools.)

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—The state's capital city has not escaped the financial crisis which is threatening public schools in other towns and cities throughout Ohio.

Columbus and its suburbs still are paying their teachers, but Grandview has cut its school term three weeks, while Upper Arlington may reduce likewise.

May Close Early
Even in the city of Columbus, schools are dependent on tax collections for the usual 40-week term. If sufficient collections are not forthcoming, schools may be closed early.

The budget for Columbus schools is $3,850,000. Up to Dec. 31, last, the school board estimates that $900,000 has been lost to the district through delinquent taxes, indicating that to that period a deficit of almost $1,000,000 was looming.

To meet the threatened condition Columbus revised its high school status so that fewer teachers were retained and the pupil ratio per instructor was increased.

Further, there was a general downward revision of salaries. Special supervisors were assigned to straight teaching positions and general economies put in effect on all purchasing, operating and maintenance policies.

Saves $20,000
Grandview managed to pay teachers and meet other expenses, but shaved three weeks from the term to save $20,000. There is a possibility, however, that another two weeks will be eliminated.

Upper Arlington has followed the practice in force all over the state to help make up for deficits existing or impending; namely, increasing the pupil-teacher ratio by discharging a number of instructors.

Upper Arlington also has eliminated its kindergarten, a feature of this fashionable suburb's schools the last few years. Generally lower salaries have been effected.

The schools in the immediate vicinity of Columbus and in the city itself have, therefore, suffered less than many schools over the state but their problem—like that of others—will lie in finding the proper course to pursue to strengthen their financial condition next year when the crisis may be much more acute.

Fourth Time Bride

And now, it's Mrs. Lucy Cotton Thomas Ament Ham Magraw. For the widow of Edward Russell Thomas, New York sportsman, banker and publisher, was married secretly to William M. Magraw, head of an engineering company. She is shown with her new husband, Mrs. Magraw's 7-year-old daughter, Lucy Thomas, recently jumped into the public prints when a court order restricted her monthly allowance for living expenses to $3,000.

Motorists Prepare To Invade Capital

Inquiries received by the Columbus County Automobile club indicate that this section will be well represented by motorists at the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt on March 4, according to Albert P. Morris, manager.

Mr. Morris said that reports from A. A. A. national headquarters, which is cooperating with inaugural officials in Washington, are to the effect that record attendance is anticipated for the ceremonies.

He added that the motor club is prepared to handle all details of the trip for members, including the securing of hotel reservations and seats for the inaugural parade.

The parade will be the highlight of the national event and will follow the line of march used in past years. It will form north of the capital immediately after the oath of office is administered to the incoming president. The line of march will be as follows:

West to Pennsylvania ave. and down this historic thoroughfare to Fifteenth st., N. W., north on Fifteenth to Pennsylvania ave. and westward past the white house to Twentieth st., N. W. The court of honor, from which the new president will witness the parade, is being erected directly in front of the white house.

Stands are now being erected at various points along Pennsylvania ave. and the demand for seats indicates that they will be at a premium by March 4.

LEGISLATURE HIGHLIGHTS

(By Associated Press)
A thumbnail sketch of activities in the legislature:

The wet tide submerged the senate yesterday. That body adopted the Smolka resolution calling for a popular vote on the state prohibition amendment next November.

By its action, the senate disregarded Governor White's suggestion that the resolution be amended to make repeal, if approved by the voters, imperative until the states have ratified a federal repealer, submitted by congress.

The amendment to delay the referendum pending national ratification also was defeated.

Next Tuesday has been set for a house vote on the Smolka plan and the wets predicted the senate's action assured them victory in the lower branch.

The lawmakers are studying methods of calling a state convention to consider ratification of the federal repeal plan.

A house vote was scheduled today on the emergency relief bill to permit cities and counties to divert gasoline tax receipts for relief work. It is the last of the administration's measures to extend the present relief program for two more years.

Approved by a conference committee, the building and loan liquidating bill is back in the house, which had rejected senate amendments. House approval is expected.

The senate labor committee has recommended adoption of a resolution proposing ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution. The resolution has been adopted by the house.

Reopening of Bern Death Probe Looms(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—A reopening of the investigation into the death of Paul Bern, motion picture producer and husband of Jean Harlow, screen star, appeared likely today as a result of a secret inquiry started by two members of the county grand jury.

The jurors, acting on their own initiative, have obtained a copy of the transcript of the inquest into the death of Bern and have been studying it several days. It was learned.

New information received by the two from private sources is reported to be the incentive for the present study of the circumstances of the producer's death.

W. W. Widenham, foreman of the jury, and O. G. Lawton, member of the criminal complaints committee of the inquest body, are the two who have interested themselves in the case. They would not comment on the nature of the new information they are said to have received.

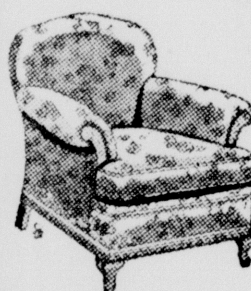

ment on the nature of the new information they are said to have received.

District Attorney Byron Pitts said he knew of no reason why the investigation of the case should be reopened.

Widenham admitted obtaining a copy of the transcript of testimony of the inquest but declined to comment on his investigation.

Dickinson Point System Gives Alliance Hi Big Ten Cage Title

Aviators Are Conceded Crown in League Again With Massillon Second

Unofficial tabulations of season's records under the Dickinson scoring system today declared Alliance High basketballers the champions of the Northeastern Ohio Big Ten Athletic association for the third consecutive year.

Despite a crushing, 51-36 defeat sustained at Salem last week, the powerful Aviator quintet not only shares the lead in the league title race with Massillon High, but, through rules of the association as stipulated under the Dickinson system, must be declared the title-winner once more.

Rule Gives Alliance Title.

The rule which definitely assures the Aviators of the crown asserts that, where two teams are tied for the championship, that team which has defeated the other during regular season's play is given the title.

Alliance defeated Massillon twice, by scores of 27-26 and 31-28 during the current campaign.

Barberton, at first considered the new champion because of its record of six victories and but one defeat under the Dickinson system, now has no chance for the crown and ranks in third place. Salem is tied for fourth position with Ravenna while Dover is fifth.

Point Standings

Dickinson standings give Alliance and Massillon each 22 6-7 points while Barberton has 20 5-6. Salem and Ravenna each have an even 20, Dover following with 18 3-4.

Unique is the fact that in compiling the standings, mathematical sharks today revealed that Massillon, scheduled to play Niles Friday night at Massillon, will probably win, but, instead of gaining points and advancing in front of the Aviators, Massillon will lose 5-14 of a point and drop into second place with a total of 22 1-2 points.

In percentage standings Barberton has a big edge over both Stark county schools, holding six wins and one setback for a average of .834. In second place is Dover with 750 through six wins and one setback. Alliance and Massillon, each winning five and losing two games, following with .714.

Beat Second Division Clubs

Only two of Barberton's victories, however, were gained over first division clubs, the remaining four being won at the expense of teams ranking under .500. Dover won only one first division game and beat five teams of the lower ranking.

Massillon and Alliance, on the other hand, each won three verdicts against top division clubs, an achievement which under the Dickinson plan, gives them a big boost over the other two rivals.

Here is the system used in ranking teams under the Dickinson plan:

How Teams Are Ranked

Teams are ranked in two divisions, those having a percentage of .500 or more and those holding averages of less than .500. Points are awarded for playing first division teams. For winning the game, 30 points; losing, 15 points.

In playing second division clubs teams are awarded 20 points for a victory and 10 for a defeat.

Explaining further:

Salem lost to Alliance and is given 15 points; the team beat New Philadelphia, a second division club, and obtained an additional 20; losing to Massillon, Salem gained another 15, then, in defeating Alliance, received 30 more, giving the Quakers a total of 80 for the four games.

This total then is divided by the number of contests, the resulting total of 20 points being the team's average for the season.

Massillon and Alliance have each defeated three first division clubs and two of the second division. They lost two top division contests for a total of 160 points. Divided by seven games, the teams have an average of 22 6-7 points.

Why Massillon Can't Win

Massillon, in playing Niles Friday night, through a victory, will be given 20 more points, bringing its total to 180. This number is divided by eight games, giving the average of 22 1-2, automatically dropping the team to second place, behind the Aviators.

How Big Ten Schools Rank

Here are how schools rank in the N. E. O. Big Ten under the Dickinson scoring system:

SCHOOL	W.	L.	Wtd.	Lfd.	Wsd.	Lsd.	Pts.	G.	Ave.
Alliance	5	2	3	2	2	0	160	7	22 6-7

Young Corbett Outpoints Fields To Capture Welterweight Title

CHAMPION LOSES CROWN IN CLASH ON WEST COAST

California Southpaw Displays Dazzling Left In Thrilling Bout

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Young Corbett, the third, looked out over the welterweight ranks today as the champion of a division in which he has been the most persistent challenger the last three years.

Defeats Jackie Fields
Climaxing a long uphill pull, the Fresno, Cal., left hander became the ruler of the 147-pound class by defeating Jackie Fields decisively in a 10-round bout here yesterday.

With a dazzling early attack that won him five rounds before his opponent got started, Corbett piled up an advantage that left no doubt in the minds of 15,000 fans as to his superiority. There were no dissenting voices when Referee Jack Kennedy raised Corbett's arm.

Tiring somewhat in the eighth and ninth rounds, Corbett finished with a rally that left Fields dazed and leg weary. Fifteen seconds before the end of the tenth session, he drove into Fields with rights and lefts that forced the latter to give ground. While the crowd cheered Corbett landed three heavy lefts to the chin and scored twice with right hands to the body without Fields making a return.

Beats Rival to Punch
Corbett fought his battle along well laid plans. He drove in the first blow, a left to the body, and continued to beat his rival to the punch until midway of the fight.

Just when Corbett's backers were beginning to predict a knockout, Fields found the range, and he took the sixth round easily.

The spurt was short lived, however, as Corbett came back in the seventh to slow his rival down to a walk.

The title holder made his big bid in the ninth, when he pounded Corbett around the ring with a two-fisted attack. Corbett clinched repeatedly to weather the storm.

The new title holder is of Italian parentage, his real name being Raffaele Giordano. He is 27 years old, and has been fighting for nearly 10 years, and in 141 matches has lost but two decisions and never has been knocked out.

CARROLL LOSES TO MT. UNION IN 47-21 GAME

Purple Five Starts Slow But Finishes Fast to Win Easily

(By Associated Press)
ALLIANCE, Feb. 23.—Mount Union College advanced another step nearer to a third successive Ohio Conference cage championship by trimming John Carroll University, 47 to 21, here last night.

The Mounts were slow to hit their stride at the start of the second half but one they started clicking the score steadily soared. Mount lost Curtis and Brady on personal fouls while Arizona of John Carroll also was banished.

Mount Shows Strong Defense.
Ollie Dawson led John Carroll in scoring with six points. The Mount defense limited the Clevelanders to six goals. The game was exceptionally fast most of the way. John Carroll relied on a fast breaking offense, but was unable to consistently penetrate the Mount defense.

Mount Union will invade Cleveland Saturday night to play Western Reserve in a non-conference fray.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia, pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "dead" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

WITTENBERGERS, OHIO U. ANNEX BUCKEYE TILTS

Two-Way Tie for Conference Title Looms In Ohio Cage Race

(By Associated Press)
A two-way tie for the Buckeye conference basketball championship loomed as a probability today as Wittenberg gathered its forces for a final effort to match Ohio University's eight victories.

Wittenberg, Ohio U. Win
In a see-saw contest, Wittenberg eliminated Ohio Wesleyan's high scoring team 31 to 30 last night while Ohio U. closed its conference season with a 39 to 19 triumph over Cincinnati. The victory was Wittenberg's seventh against two defeats. Ohio U. won eight and lost two.

A Friday night game with Marshall college, which has won but three of its nine contests, will close the Wittenberg season. A victory would put the Springfield team in a tie with Ohio U. for the circuit pennant.

Berens Sets Record
Berens, Ohio center, accounted for ten of the Bobcats' points to run his season's total to 141 in ten games and break the former conference individual scoring record of 132 points in 12 games set by Hendricks of Ohio Wesleyan. The Bobcats led 13 to 7 at the half.

The Wittenberg-Wesleyan game was a thriller. The score was close throughout with Wittenberg holding a 17-15 lead at the half and running its advantage to 25 to 15 early in the second period only to see Wesleyan knot the count at 28-all with five minutes left to play. A free throw by Jones and a basket by James finally clinched the contest.

Here are the conference standings, including last night's games:

Wittenberg	W	L
Ohio U.	8	2
Wittenberg	7	2
Ohio Wesleyan	7	3
Cincinnati	3	5
Marshall	3	6
Miami	0	9

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

General John J. Pershing is to go before the microphone for a weekly series.

The 72-year-old retired commander-in-chief of the A. E. F. will appear as a narrator in a dramatic musical built around his war experiences. The feature is being made ready for the Wednesday night WEAF-NBC schedule.

Jack Benny, comedian, and his wife, Mary Livingston, together with Irene Taylor, blues singer, and Frank Black, orchestra, have been proposed as the entertainers to succeed to Al Jolson's Friday night time on WEAF-NBC. Jolson, in leaving the air, expressed the belief that he did not get an opportunity to demonstrate his microphone ability to its fullest extent.

Adolf Hitler, chancellor of Germany, is scheduled for another radio address to the United States via WABC-CBS next Wednesday afternoon. Two broadcast orchestras already have been announced to play for the inaugural ball. They are Rudy Vallee's and Guy Lombardo's.

Scene of German Blast That Killed 170

The industrial section of Neunkirchen, Germany, re- ssembled a shelled town after the gas tank explosion. Above rescue workers are shown clearing up one of the ruined streets. Note how stone buildings were that killed 170 and injured more than a thousand. blown to bits by the blast that was felt 150 miles away.

THEATER Attractions

THE case of an honest lawyer vs. a big city's politicians will be presented before Judge Public when William Powell's latest picture, "Lawyer Man," plays this evening as the State theater's main attraction.

Supporting Cast Good

Joan Blondell is his leading lady, with Helen Vinson, last seen here in "Second Hand Wife." Alan Dinehart, Claire Dodd seen recently in "Hard to Handle," David Landau, Sheila Terry, Allen Jenkins and Kenneth Thompson in other leading characterizations.

It is a new sort of story for Powell, fast-paced drama which runs a rapid gamut from ward cases on the East Side to big business cases which jerk him out of his little corner of the world and deposit him in an elaborate suite of offices.

In his law practice among his own people, Powell finds the peace and satisfaction he so loves; but when he steps out against some of the city's biggest lawyers in cases involving more than he has ever before heard of—his success is a bit too much for him.

Beats "Ring"

However, after being "tricked" by so many people he called his friends and due to the practical and sane advice of his secretary (Miss Blondell), who has stuck with him even when he soared into society that made her head swim, he is able to beat the "ring" and go back among the people of his own kind, finding his satisfaction in helping the little fellow who, but for him, would be at the mercy of every city wolf who wandered his way.

Not a new plot by any way you look at it, but with the always charming and easy-going ways of Powell and the wise-cracking good natured little Miss Blondell, along with an excellent supporting cast, it's an entertaining film.

RUTH CHATTERTON'S "Frisco Jenny" comes to the State Friday for a two-day run.

The polished and dignified actress turns entirely away from her recent society roles in her latest starring vehicle, and reverts to a character part similar to those in which she made some of her early and most outstanding successes, such as "Madam X" and "Sarah and Son."

In "Frisco Jenny" she appears as the Queen of the Demi-monde, who rules her kingdom with an iron hand, a woman hard and unscrupulous, yet with an underlying tenderness and so unsurpassable a love for her only son, that she goes to the gallows with sealed lips rather than acquaint him with his mother's shame.

Drink Water with Meals, Good For Stomach

Water with meals helps stomach juices, aids digestion. If bloated with gas add a spoonful of Adierika. One dose cleans out poisons and washes BOTH upper and lower bowels. J. H. Lease Drug Company, State st. and Lincoln ave., State st. and Broadway. Adv

"THE LOVE TRAP"

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

COPYRIGHT BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Shortly after her mother's death, Mary Kennedy, young and pretty stenographer decides to live her own life and avoid the poverty she has always known. She rents a small room and then seeks a position. Mary meets Buck Landers, elderly sports promoter, who proposes to her. She does not love Landers, but his wealth attracts her.

Without waiting for Mary's decision, Landers presents her with a diamond ring. He threatens anyone who comes between them.

Mary meets Landers' ward, Steve Moore, young college graduate.

Steve and Mary are attracted to one another. Landers leaves on a business trip and asks Steve to look after Mary.

They dine and dance and are extremely happy until the return of Mary's engagement spreads a pall over their spirits.

Mary tells Steve she does not want to marry Landers.

Mary Kennedy, pretty secretary, becomes engaged to Buck Landers, wealthy sports promoter, who is much older.

Later, Mary meets young Steve Moore, Landers' ward. They are attracted to one another immediately. Landers asks Steve to entertain Mary while he is out of town. The bond between the young couple grows but thoughts of Landers form a barrier. Mary tells Steve she does not want to marry Landers.

One evening Steve takes Mary in his arms. Then conscience stricken, he tells her they must not see each other again.

Next day, Landers' former sweetheart calls on Mary and threatens her.

Mary longs for Steve but days pass with no word from him. Finally he comes to say he is going west. She persuades him to stay.

They spend the evening together at Landers' hotel.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

Buck Landers needed no explanation of the obvious scene before his eyes. Mary was in the arms of Steve Moore—his intelligence, as one bound, understood everything. She half expected immediate violence, but Landers was the coolest—the coolest person in the room. His graven face never varied from its stone expression; his eyes narrowed; there was nothing anger back of the lids! But his controlled voice was flat.

"I got back," he explained, "before I expected to. You're a fast worker, Steve—faster than I dreamed."

"I'm sorry," Steve said briefly. Landers turned his frigid gaze to Mary. "It looks like I guessed wrong about you, Mary. The house detective tipped me off that you two were up here. Well, that's just my hard luck. But I'm going to surprise you. You're not going to get away with it."

"I'm afraid there's nothing we can do about it, Mr. Landers—any of us," Mary said from a tight throat. "It came on us just like an accident. I'm much in love with Steve, Mr. Landers, and—"

Landers gripped a cigar between his teeth. "It must feel pretty awful, doesn't it, to be caught double crossing a pal?" His stare was directed at Steve. "I mean, after you've been trusted."

The color came swiftly to Steve's face. "I know it looks like I crossed you, Buck—but you don't understand. Whether you believe it or not—I'm on the square about this—it's the biggest thing in my life."

His voice shook with emotion under the blinding shock, with its implication that he was an ingrate and a traitor to his benefactor.

"I understand the situation perfectly," said Landers. "If I went away and left you in charge of a sum of money, and you stole it, I'd know you were a thief. Stealing a woman is worse. And the worst of it all is that I was dumb enough to think you were a square kid. Yes, I'd almost have staked my life on you. You don't look like a rat and a double-crosser, either. Not to look at you."

"You don't understand," cried Mary. "If you understood you couldn't talk that way to Steve."

"What beats me," said Landers, "is how I could be taken in by a couple of cheaters. You too, Mary—I thought you were different from the mob around here. My God! You're the worst!" There was an impregnable harshness about him, almost a wildness, that was difficult to combat. Nevertheless, he held himself in leash.

Mary lifted her eyes and looked straight at him. "I'll admit it looks like dirty work, but it isn't," she said. "People can't help it when they fall in love, Mr. Landers. And after all, we're both free."

Her words made no impression upon Landers; they glanced off like pebbles thrown against a rock cliff. He was staring at Steve, his face white.

"I want to talk to you alone," he said.

Steve shook his head. "We can do all the talking that is necessary here and now."

Landers shot him a glance and said bitterly.

"Okay, maybe you're only a fool. In that case, you might be able to listen to reason. You've got to drop this girl."

"I'm sorry, Buck—but I'm not going to drop her, ever. It just can't be done. I'm afraid you'll just have to listen to reason."

"Why, you poor sap—don't you know you're cheating yourself worse than you are me?" Landers demanded brutally insulting. "You don't have to steal my girl if you want a woman. New York is full of dames. You could have had anything you wanted just by snapping your fingers. I was going to put you in right—I was building you up for a big job and lots of dough. I'd have made a man of you. I could do it yet, because I still think you've got some stuff. You're just a damn fool, but I'll tell you this, kid—you'll either lay off Mary and never see her again, or I'll toss you in the alley. Do you know what you'd been without me? A bum! I practically made a son out of you—but it won't take me one second to give you the air. Do you want another chance?"

"If it means giving up Mary—not on your life!" Steve exploded. "I'll give you back your ring, Mr. Landers—"

Mary said eagerly. "But you mustn't feel as if Steve was a criminal—"

"I thought I might depend on you for gratitude—if nothing else!" the older man threw at her. "What you don't seem to understand is that you belong to me. I found you and you can't give me the air as easy as all this. You'll come back into line all right. I see, though, you can't be given a loose rein."

Once more he turned to Steve. His voice was rigid.

"Are you willing to drop all this right now?"

"I am not!"

Landers threw the dead stump of his cigar out the window.

"All right—you've set the pace, you doubled-crossed me—the best friend you ever had. I offered you a chance to straighten up and you told me to go to hell. Everything looks hot-as-totsy to you now but you're dumb. You're going up against a better man than you ever met in your life. You can't get away with this. I got a dozen ways of stepping you, whenever I want. Now get this. You'd better lay off Mary, or something pretty bad is going to happen to you. Something that will make you as gentle and easy to handle as a kitten. You're in a big, tough town now, and it's nothing like college. I'm telling you—I'm warning you. You're not going to have a chance to enjoy Mary. Better men than you have been framed and, by God, they'll be again!"

Mary's pulse was beating wildly; she saw that Steve's face had turned pale. Landers was like ice, absolutely sure of himself. He was as authoritative as a judge pronouncing sentence upon a criminal. A wild terror surged in her heart. This was danger, danger!

He was going to do something dreadful to Steve, he was going to hurt him—to kill him.

"Please! Listen!" She took a few steps towards Landers. "You're upset, Mr. Landers. We haven't harmed you, either of us. Steve has practically worshipped the ground you've walked on. He still does."

"A hell of a lot he shows it," Landers retorted. "A lucky thing for him I got tipped off you two were in this room. And lucky for you I'm not going to get rough with you for disorderly conduct. I could slap you both in jail. What do you think of that?"

Mary dropped on the sofa, buried her face into her hands.
